Mrs. H. B. Miller. She was born May 18, 1867, died at her home in Marble Hill, Mo., October 1, 1918, at 1:30 o'clock p. m., aged 50 years, 4 months and 16 days.

She was converted at the Marble Hill Baptist church about a year ago, but left the impression with her folks that she wanted to unite with her home church at New Trace Creek where she lived until about four years ago, when her folks moved to Marble Hill. But she never did get to unite with that church, but we know that Mabel lived a true Christian life until death.

We mourn our loss, but yet we know it is heaven's gain. Mabel desired to live longer, but was willing at the Master's call, if it be His will.

She was a student of Will Mayfield college and was anxious to get well so she could go to school again, but the Lord saw fit to call her home. She was the first girl to die while enrolled in this college. She suffered eight weeks.

A father, mother, sister, brother and many other relatives and friends are left to mourn her departure, but we know if we live as she did we shall meet her beyond this vale of tears where there will be no parting.

She was a bright jewel loaned us for awhile, but now she has left us sad and lonely in this dark world of sorrow; she has crossed the shining tide safely into that golden city not made with hands.

Altho she has gone to rest, her life is still with us to inspire us on to greater efforts that we may develop characters like unto Jesus.

"Soon the evening shadow
Shall close the day of mortal life,
Soon the hand of death
Shall draw us from this weary strife.

Oh, the hill of life the setting sun
Flashes our life's work done,
As the twilight gathers round us
We are one day nearer home."

A short service was conducted at the Marble Hill Baptist church at 10:00 o'clock a. m., and at New Trace Creek church at 2:30 o'clock p. m., October 2, by Rev. W. A. Davault.

Her body was laid to rest in the New Trace Creek cemetery in the presence of a number of relatives and friends.

WHY not give your lad the same training?

"When I was a growing lad, and came upon many words in my reading that I did not understand, my mother, instead of giving me the definition when I asked for it, uniformly sent me to the dictionary to learn it, and in this way I gradually learned many things. I have the meaning of the individual words in question among other things, how to use a dictionary, and the great pleasure and advantage there might be in the use of the dictionary. Afterwards, when I went to the village school, my chief diversion, after lessons were learned and before they were recited, was in turning over the pages of the 'Unabridged' of those days. Now the most modern Unabridged—the NEW INTERNATIONAL—gives me a pleasure of the same sort. So far as my knowledge extends, it is at present the best of the one-volume dictionaries, and quite sufficient for all ordinary uses. Even those who possess the splendid dictionaries in several volumes will yet find it a great convenience to have this, which is so compact, so full, and so trustworthy as to leave, in most cases, little to be desired."—Albert S. Cook, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of the English Language and Literature, Yale Univ., April 20, 1911.

THRIFT IS ..PREPAREDNESS..

Financial strength is to nations as important as military strength. No nation can survive a war if it cannot finance itself.

The man who fortified himself with an account in a savings bank does more than prepare himself—he contributes to the preparedness of the country.

Germany, unable to borrow from other countries, has been financed by the thrift of her people, as this thrift was expressed in accounts in savings banks.

A savings bank deposit helps the nation and is indispensable to the individual.
